Birthday boy Reginald has a special visitor!
The mime, mimic and maniac Bobby Pinwheel!

Spoiled birthday boy Reginald gets an exciting announcement ... his favorite clown Bobby Pinwheel has been hired to perform his special brand of tricks!

Creator Rob Kleinschmidt is a teacher in New York City and is an avid fan of genre films with horror in particular. Bobby Pinwheel is a swirling mixture of my consumption of 60's trash cinema and stop motion children's shows.

Crew:

Rob Kleinschmidt (Director/Animator) has been creating stop motion nonsense since he bought a Krasnogorsk 16mm camera as a teenager. He is a Brooklyn based filmmaker whose stop motion works have appalled and delighted audiences around the world. His works are inspired by the madness he consumed as a child including Gumby, The Banana Splits and Herschell Gordon Lewis. His works include the midnight cult classic crazed clown cannibal film Feast of Fools and the animated series The Rocky Roads – whose first episode played at Slamdance 2019.

Tracy Waaka (Puppet Creation) was a costume designer at The New Zealand Opera outreach program and has been involved in the fashion industry for the past two decades.

Dustin LaVasseur (music) is a multi-talented musician living in Portland, Maine.
